Date of death: 1866

Gender: Male

Occupation: Unitarian minister, schoolmaster, and first editor of Yr Ymofynydd

Area of activity: Education; Literature and Writing; Printing and Publishing; Religion

Author: Thomas Oswald Williams

Born 7 July 1801 at Carmarthen, where his father was a deacon at Lammas Street chapel. He was educated at David Peter's school and at Carmarthen Academy (1817-21). At the end of his course he received a call from the churches of Bridgend and Betws, where he spent the remainder of his life and where he kept a school until 1842. When Yr Ymofynydd was started he was appointed its first editor, a position he held for thirteen years in all (September 1847 to April 1854; January 1859 to June 1865). He was tutor at Carmarthen for six months in the early part of 1860. He was useful in his circle and did a good day's work. Apart from his articles in Yr Ymofynydd, he published a Welsh sermon, Grist yn un a'r Tad, 1847. He died 25 February 1866 and was buried at Carmarthen.
